

Unscramble the letters to get the correct words.

- In India, there are many a _____ (CIENTAN)
c _____ (COTIONSLEEC) of stories that teach us about life.
- The P _____ (TANPANTRACHA) is a collection of f _____ (LESFAB) in S _____ (KRIANSST). It is supposed to have been written by V _____ (SHVUIN) Sharma. After the Bible, it is perhaps the most widely translated literary work.
- H _____ (HITOASHEDPA), meaning good a _____ (ICADEV), is a book of fables in Sanskrit by Pandit N _____ (YANANARA). It is based on the Panchatantra. The title of this book makes its purpose clear.
- Gunadhya wrote and combined many popular stories in Sanskrit for his collection, B _____ (THAKABRIHAT), meaning 'the g _____ (ATGRE) story'. Gunadhya lived, just before Jesus Christ, in south India. His work has been compared to the Ramayana and the Mahabharata.
- The J _____ (SKAJAAT) consist of fairy tales, animal stories and fables. Many of their stories are quite humorous and teach us something. Lord B _____ (UAHBDD) appears as one of the characters in each tale.
- Kathasaritsagar* is an important work in Sanskrit literature compiled by S _____ (DEVAAMOS).

Wall art showing Lord Krishna and Arjuna on a chariot in the Mahabharata

Find Out

... the names of some famous collections like the ones mentioned in the questions above, which are written in other languages, including your mother tongue. Languages of India
... what is meant by the 'moral of a story'.

Listen and Talk

Those of you who know any tales from the books referred to on this page, should narrate them in your own words in class.