Reading Characters

KNOWING A CHARACTER

OUTSIDE

Physical traits
What we can SEE ...
- hair
- facial features
- clothes

INSIDE

Personality traits
What we learn from ...
- actions
- words
- thoughts
- feelings

CHARACTER TRAITS

kind generous helpful courageous brave confident imaginative creative bright hard-working easy-going quiet respectful thoughtful grateful lazy proud greedy selfish dishonest bossy mean rude cheerful cool curious clever brilliant obedient wild outgoing mischievous witty patient fun-loving

The main characters are the central or important characters.
The supporting characters are the less important characters.

TYPES OF WRITING

NARRATIVE
- tells the reader a story
- can be fact or fiction
- has a clear beginning, middle, end

INFORMATIONAL OR EXPOSITORY
- informs or explains something
- usually used for non-fiction writing

PERSUASIVE
- aims to influence the reader
- gives an opinion or a course of action

DESCRIPTIVE
- paints a picture for the reader
- sensory (uses imagery which appeals to all the five senses)

Types of Writing

Fantasy
a story that has strange characters and settings—often imaginary

Realistic fiction
a fictional story that is true to life

Mystery
a story full of suspense with a puzzle that is solved in the end

Historical fiction
a story with characters and events set against a historical background

Traditional literature stories like myths, fables, folk tales and legends that are passed on from one generation to another

Science fiction
a story based on science and technology, often set in the future and on other planets

Fairy tale
a story, usually for children, about magical creatures like fairies and wizards

Poetry
literary work that often uses imagery, rhythm and rhyme to express feelings and ideas

Drama
a play; a text written for performing on stage with costumes, dialogues, etc.

Graphic story
a story told visually through illustrated panels with speech bubbles

Humour
a fun-filled story meant to entertain the reader

Adventure
a story that tells us about an unusual, exciting or daring event

Informational writing that gives facts or information about a subject

Biography
an account of someone's life written by someone else

Autobiography
an account of a person's life written by that person

Speech a written version of a formal address given to an audience

Travelogue
writing about places one has visited or the experiences of a traveller

Classic writing that many people over a long period of time have agreed to be outstanding